POETICAL.

OUR MARTYRED RANK AND FILE.

Our Rank and File: our Rank and File:
In distant graves these martyrs lie.
Chiefs are entombed in native soil;
Soldiers must moulder where they die.
They sleep unsung. High-gifted bards
For fallen leaders pour the lay,
But genius not a line awards
To grace unepaulette clay.
In pits and trenches—charnels vile—
Unhonored rot the Rank and File.

Be these my theme. Great names command,
As fit they should, a requiem proud;
But amid nameless graves I stand,
Sad poet of a slaughtered crowd.
Though in the histories written here
Their deeds, their worth, may ne'er be shown,
The record shines forth bright and clear,
Where earth's unrecognized are known.
Good angels welcome with a smile
The spirits of the Rank and File.

Take comfort, all ye widowed ones,
Who seek your husbands' dust in vain:
Take comfort, mothers, ye whose sons
Lie lost in mazes of the slain,
Up from the "dark and bloody ground,"
That hides them from you now, shall come
The buried cohorts glory-crowned,
When peals the resurrection drum.
All peacefully they rest meanwhile,
These heroes of the Rank and File.

But late a living wall they stood
Between our homes and harm—these braves:
When I forget such brotherhood
May heaven my portion cast with slaves!
I sing their dirge with bated breath;
I write these lines with quivering pen.
Song has no voice, and fame no wreath,
Too glorious for such glorious men.
Their shrine instead of marble pile
Shall be our hearts—the Rank and File.

Miscellaneous.

A DAY IN PETTICOATS.

BY A MCDEST MAN.

"I could'nt think of such a thing."

"But you must. My happiness depends on it. Here, put on the thing-umbobs, and the what's-his name."

And my friend Bob Styles held up before my hesitant gaze a suit of female apparel.

His idea was that I could personate his lady love for one day to prevent anybody from suspecting the truth—namely that she had joined him in a runaway marriage party—until it should be too late for interference, that is, until the minister should have tied the knot between them, that nothing but a special grant of the Legislature could undo.

This scheme was not actually so absurd as it appeared at first sight.—Maggie Lee was a tall, queenly woman, with an almost masculine air, and at that time I had a very slight form—almost effeminate, so that in fact, there was really but little difference in that point. Then I had light hair, tolerably long, and a fresh complexion. Part my hair in the middle, put a bonnet on my head, and few persons would have suspected but what I was really one of the softer sex. These accessories also gave me quite a decided resemblance to Maggie Lee, especially when, as in this case, the disguise was her own.

Then the day chosen for the runaway match was an auspicious one.—Maggie's father was to drive her to D——, a small village near where she lived, and there she was to join a sailing party down D—— river, to the grove three miles below, from which the party was to return in the evening in carriages.

Our plan was that I should be in waiting in the village, and should go on the boat with the sailing party, while Maggie, after leaving her father, should slip off with Bob across the country.

At last I got dressed, and presented myself before Maggie Lee, blushing a great deal, I believe, feeling very much pinched about the waist, and with an uncomfortable consciousness that my shirt-sleeves were too short, or waistline altogether.

Everything finished in the way of toilet, Bob Styles took me into his light wagon, drove me over to D——, by a secluded route, and left me at the hotel, where the sailing party was to assemble. Several of the pic-nicers were already there, and they greeted my cavalier cordially, (everybody knew Bob Styles,) asked if he was going with them, etc. He told them he was not.

"Pressing business engagement, you know, and all that sort of thing.—Deuced sorry. I can't go, though. I just had time to bring Miss Lee over, and now I'm off. Mr. Bimby, this is Miss Lee, Miss Withergall, Miss Lee," and he rattled off a string of briefintroductions, which convinced me that few of the company were acquainted with the young lady whom I was personating—a very fortunate thing for the preservation of my disguise.

Mr. Bimby, a tall, legal looking man, with a hook nose, and eye glass and finny hair, seemed to be prepossessed with my personelle, and I overheard him whisper to Bob Styles, as he went out:

"Nice looking girl, that Miss Lee."

"Yes," answered Bob, with a mischievous glance at me, "she is a nice girl, though a little go ahead sometimes. Keep a little look out on her, will you"—then, lowering his voice—"not a bad match for you old fellow; she is rich."

"Is she?" said Mr. Bimby, his interest deepening.

"On my honor," replied Bob. "Forty thousand dollars in her own right. Good day!" and he was gone.

Maggie Lee, artful creature that she was, had told her father that the sailing party was to assemble at another hotel, and thither he had taken her. Having business in D—— he left her there, merely saying that he would send the carriage for her at eleven o'clock. She, like a dutiful daughter, kissed him good bye, and before he had gone a hundred rods, took a seat in Bob Styles' light wagon, which had driven up to the back door as old Lee's carriage drove away from the front, and the old story of headstrong love and prejudiced age was enacted over again.

As for us, of the pic-nic excursion, we had a delightful sail down to the Grove, but somehow I could not enjoy it as much as I ought to have done. When I walked on board the boat, I felt awkward, as if everybody was looking at me. I found Mr. Bimby, as I had suspected, a young and rising lawyer, mighty in Blackstone and in his own opinion. He insisted on paying for my ticket (the boat was a regular excursion packet) and purchasing enough oranges, pears and candies to set up a street stand. Four or five times I was on the point of swearing at his impudent officiousness, but bit my tongue just in time to prevent the exposure. But it was not with him that I found my role the [illegible] him to hold me very closely, and occasionally looked at him with a half fascinating expression. When we stopped dancing, he led me to my seat, keeping his arm about my waist, and I permitted it.

Having thus stirred Bimby up to feats of wrathful valor, I asked one of the gentlemen to direct the musician to play a waltz. Bimby came immediately.

"Ahem—a—Miss Lee, shall I—a, have the honor of—a—trying a waltz with you?"

I smiled acquiescence, and we commenced.

Now, I am an old stager at waltzing. I can keep up longer than any non-professional dancer, male or female, whom I ever met. As long as the Cachucha or Schounebrunner ring in my ears, I can go on, if it is for a year.

Not so Bimby. He plead want of practice, and acknowledged that he soon got dizzy.

"Aha, old boy," thought I, "I'll give you a turn, then."

But I only smiled, and said that I should probably get tired first.

"Oh, yes," he exclaimed, "of course I can waltz as long as any one lady, but not much more."

For the first three minutes my cavalier did well. He went smoothly and evenly, but at the expiration of that time began to grow warm. Five minutes elapsed, and Bimby's breath came harder and harder. On we went, however, and I scorned to notice his slackening up at every round, when we passed my seat. After some twelve minutes, the wretched man gasped out between his steps—

"Oh, a—are you not—get—got—getting tired, Miss Lee?"

"Oh, no!" I burst forth as coolly as if we were riding round the room.—"I feel as if I could waltz all night."

The look of despair that he gave me was terrible to see.

I was bound to see him through, however, and we kept at it. Bimby staggered and made wild steps in all directions. His shirt collar wilted, his eyes protruded, his jaw hung down; and altogether I saw he could not hold on much longer.

"This is delightful," I said, composedly, "and you, Mr. Bimby, waltz so easily."

Puff—puff—"Ah,"—puff—"yes—oh—puff—"very"—puff—"delightful," gasped he.

"Don't you think we ought to go a little faster?"

His eyes rolled heavenward in an awful agony.

"Ah,"—puff, puff—"I dont—ah"—puff—"don't know."

So, when we neared the musicians, I said, "Faster, if you please, faster!" and they played a la whirlwind.

Poor Bimby threw his feet about like a fast pacer, and revolved after the manner of a teetotum which was nearly run down. At last he staggered a step backwards, and spinning eccentrically away from me, pitched headlong into the midst of a small bevy of ladies in a corner. I turned around coolly, walked to my seat, and sent the young woman killer for a glass of ice-water.

The miserable lawyer recovered his senses just in time to see me thank his rival for the water.

I got some idea, from this, of the fun the ladies find in tormenting us poor devils of the other sex.

At this juncture, such before Mr. Bimby had time to apologize for his accident, little Jennie came running into the pavillion, which served as a ball room. As she came near I perceived her hands were clenched tightly in her dress, and I positively shuddered, as she whispered to me:

"Oh, Maggie! come and help me fix my skirts—they are all coming down!"

What should I do? I was in agony. A cold perspiration broke out upon my forehead. I wished myself a thousand miles away, an anathemized Bob Styles' masquerading project inwardly, with fearful maledictions.

I said I was tired out—could not someby else go?

No, nothing would do, but I must accompany her to the house of a gentleman who owned the grove, and assist her to arrange her clothing.

So I went.

What if it should be necessary to remove part of her raiment! What if she should tell me to do some sewing? What, if in the midst of all the embarrassment of being closeted with a beautiful girl of seventeen, in a state of comparative [illegible] drapery, my real sex and identity should be discovered by her?

I felt as if an apoplectic fit would be a fortunate occurrence for me just then.

However, I nerved myself up for the task and accompanied Jennie to the house designated. An old lady showed us into her chamber, and Jennie, heaving a sigh of relief, let go her dress. As she did so, a—pardon my blushes—petticoat fell to the floor.—She was about to proceed when I alarmed her by sudden and vehement gesture.

"Stop!" I cried frantically, and forgetting my falsetto, "stop! don't undress, for God's sake!"

She opened her great, brown eyes to their fullest extent.

"And why not?"

"Because I am—I am—a—can you keep a secret?"

"Why, yes—how frightened you look! Why, what is the matter—Maggie—you—why—oh! oh! oh!"

And she gave three fearful screams.

"Hush, no noise, or I am lost," I exclaimed, putting my hand over her mouth. I swear I mean no harm; if I had, I would not have stopped you. Don't you see!"

She was all of a tremble, poor little thing; but she saw the force of my argument.

"Oh, sir," she said, "I see you are a man; but what does it all mean? Why did you dress so?

I told her the story as brief as possible, and exacted from her a promise of the most sacred secrecy.

I then went outside of the door, and waited till she had arranged her dress, when she called me in again. She had heard of me from Maggie and others and wanted to hear all the particulars; so I sat down by her, and had a long talk, which ended in a mutual feeling of friendliness and old acquaintanceship, quite wonderful for people meeting for the first time. Just as we started back to the pavilion, I said I must relieve my mind of one burden.

"And what is that?" she asked.

"Those kisses. You thought I was Maggie Lee, or you would not have given them. They were very sweet, but I suppose I must give them back."

And I did.

She blushed a good deal, but didn't resist; only when I got through, she glanced up timidly and said:

"I think you are real naughty, anyhow."

When I returned, I found lawyer Bimby had quite recovered from his dizziness, and all hands for supper, which was served in the ball-room. I sat between Bimby and Jennie, and made love to both of them in turn; to one as Maggie Lee, and the other as myself. After supper, at which I astonished several by eating rather more heartily than young ladies generally do, we had more dancing, and I hinted pretty strongly to Mr. Bimby that I should like to try another waltz.

Finding it rather dry amusement to dance with my own kind, I soon abandoned that pleasure, and persuaded Jennie to stroll off into the moonlight with me. We found the grove a charming place, full of picturesque little corners, and rustic seats, and great gray rocks leaning out over the river. On one of these latter a little bench was placed, in a nook sheltered from the wind, and from sight.

Here we sat in the full flood of the moonlight, and having just had supper, felt wonderfully in need of a cigar. Accordingly, I went to a little stand near the ball-room, and purchased several of the wondering woman who sold refreshments. Then returning to the seats by the rocks, I gave up all fears for my incognito, and reveled in the pleasures of solitude—the fragrance of my cigar—the moonlight—and little Jennie's presence.

How long we sat there, heaven only knows. We talked and laughed, and sang, and looked in each other's eyes, and told fortunes, and performed all the nonsensical operations common amongst young people just falling in love with each other, and might have remained there, until the month of August, in this year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, for aught I know, had not the carriages been sent to convey us home, and the rest of the company began to wonder where we were.

This wonder begot questions, the questions fears, and the fears a search, headed by the valiant Bimby. They called and looked and listened, but our position down in the [illegible] nook among the rocks prevented them from hearing us, or we them.

At length they hit upon our path, and all came along single file, until they got to the open space above.

Then they saw a sight.

I was spread out in a free and easy position, my bonnet off, and my hair somewhat towzled up; one foot rested on the ground and the other on a rock, about level with my head (regardless of ankles this time), and there I sat, puffing away in a very unladylike style, at a highly flavored Concho.

Jennie was sitting close beside me, with her head almost on my shoulder, and her waist almost encircled by my arm. Just as the party came along above us, I laughed out in a loud masculine voice:

'Just think of poor What's-his-name there—Bimby. Suppose he knew that he had been making love to a man?"

"Hush!" cried Jennie; "look! there he is; and, oh, my gracious! there is the whole company!"

Yes, we were fairly caught. It was of no use for me to clap on my bonnet and assume falsetto again—they had all seen too much for that. Besides, by this time, Bob Styles and Maggie Lee were doubtless one flesh, and my disguise was of no further importance, so I owned up and told the story.

Bimby was in a rage. He vowed to kill me, and even squared off, but the rest of the party laughed at him so unmercifully, and suggested that we should waltz it out together, that he finally cooled down and slunk away, to take some private conveyance back to D——.

Bob Styles and I are living in a large double house together. He often says that he owes his wife to my masquerading, but he doesn't feel under any obligation to me, for I owe my wife to the same thing.

N. B. My wife's name is Jennie.

☞ General Sherman, in a speech at Cincinnati, stated that, a little over a year ago, General Grant and himself, in a room at the Burnett House, arranged the plan of the campaign which has since resulted in the termination of the war.

A Soldier's Welcome.

The following pleasant anecdote is told by the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette.

An interesting and touching incident occurred the other day in the great throughfare, while one of the New England regiments was marching by. A very handsome young lady, a dweller in Lexington avenue, was gazing out of the window of her carriage drawn up near the side walk, and as she heard the band she stepped upon the Russ pavement, while her face lighted up with enthusiasm at the approach of the brave soldiers. As they passed by her, she waved her embroidered, perfumed handkerchief, and exclaimed, "God bless you all for your heroism. You don't know how we have all loved you and prayed for you while you were fighting the battles of the country."

As she stood there, her cheeks all aglow, quite a boy, who looked pale and haggard, tottered by and almost touched her robes. He attracted her attention at once, and seizing him by the hand, she took him, all dusty and soiled as his garments were, in her arms and kissed him. 'My dear boy," she said, "you resemble my beloved brother—he was about your age—who was killed in Virginia; and I love you for his sake. Tell me, can I do anything for you? Here, take this," and she thrust her purse into his hand, while the tears started to her eyes and those of a dozen of his companions in arms who witnessed the touching scene.

Noble fellows, they had laid in the deadly trenches of Petersburg, and half charged the enemies batteries again and again before Richmond, with firm lip and unblanched cheek; but they could not look unmoved upon that earnest, generous girl, with her gushing tenderness toward those who had endured every sacrifice for the sacred cause of freedom.

A stately dowager in the carriage, who [illegible] necessary such publicity to interfere, went to the side of the excited girl, and drew her, all blushes and tears, that served only to lighten her charms, back to the soft cushions she had abandoned, and the liveried coachman drove off amid the cheers of the delighted soldiers.

Can't Support Himself.

A writer, describing his observations in a late tour through Georgia, states that having questioned a negro's capacity to support himself, the following reply was made which thoroughly upset his scepticism: "My name is Bryan, so called from my last master. I was born in Virginia, where my first master having broken up, I was sold to a trader and brought to Georgia. Here I have changed masters six times. I married here, and each time my own look-out only saved me from being parted from my wife and family. My master didn't care. They sold me wherever they could first get the money. I can't read. My wife can a little. I am a tailor. Before the war I paid twenty dollars a month for myself, and ten dollars for my wife, and have still managed to lay up fifteen dollars a month beside. I am now sending my oldest boy to school at two dollars per month. Judge whether I want to be free. I have supported not only myself, but my master. Why shouldn't I be able to support myself?"

A PERJURED spirit continually feels its false oath hurled back upon it from heaven; fraud spoils the taste of luxury, and makes ill-gotten wealth a cankering chain; murder always hears its brother's blood crying from the ground, making the crowd more solitary than a wilderness, and the desert more populous than a city; while sometimes that pale face bangs in the sunniest prospects by day, and that awful memory breeds a fountain of stark and ghastly dreams by night.—These men, all unwhipped of human justice as they may be, in the heavy consciousness of sin, hear thunders more deep than the sentence of its judgment-seat, and are girt with a burning cincture, more terrible than its punishment.—E. H. Chapin.

IT is reported that the government is about to send Admiral Farragut to Europe to examine and report on "foreign naval dock-yards." It is suggested that he go in his old ship, the Hartford.

PROF. WHITNEY, State Geologist of California, gives out that he has found in Tulare county, in that State, mountains fifteen thousand feet high, which he claims to be the highest within the limits of the United States.

Religious.

—From the annual report of the American Baptist Publication Society, we learn the receipts for the year from all sources, are $152,095, a gain of $42,000 over the previous year. Twenty-six colporteurs have been employed. The following is a summary of their labor: 7,967 days of service; 60,053 miles traveled; 19,316 volumes sold; 3,740 volumes granted; 108,566 pages of tracts distributed; 2,753 sermons preached; 1,736 prayer meetings held; 267 persons baptized; 18,011 families united; 339 families supplied with the Bible; 27 Sunday schools; 4 churches established. The Publication Society is now in the fortieth year of its existence.

—From the statistics presented at the recent Quadrennial General Conference of the United Brethren held at Western Iowa, we learn the following statistics: Preaching places, 5,680; classes, 4,630; aggregate of members, 89,811; meeting houses, 1,248; Sabbath schools, 1,906; teachers, 999; Sabbath school scholars, 68,171. There has been a decrease in the membership, owing to the fact that many of the young men have died in the army, some have withdrawn because of sympathy with the rebellion, and others have been dismissed.

—In a report of the proceedings of the New School Presbyterian Assembly, after referring to the fraternal address of Rev. Dr. Hickok, delegate from the Old School body, says "there is an increasing under-current of feeling among the young men of both 'Schools' for re-union. The old issues are at an end; and, when a score or two of honorable graves have been filled, it is likely that there will be but one 'General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.'"

—The Bible Christian Church in Philadelphia celebrated its forty-eighth anniversary as a church recently. The peculiarity claimed by this church consists in dispensing with all human creeds and traditions as of any binding effect. The Bible alone is their guide. The Discipline of the church requires its members to shun the common evils of the world; to abstain from all intoxicating beverages, and from the flesh of all animals. The Church numbers eighty members.

—It is stated by reliable authority that a clergyman of the English Church has refused to divulge the confession made to him by a woman who has given herself up as the murderer of her little sister. The law of the Church forbids him to reveal what he has been told, tho' the law of the land requires him to testify.

Agricultural.

Shoeing Horses.

But few blacksmiths seem willing to learn anything new about shoeing horses, or will admit that there is any need of it. But while they know no better plan of remedy overreaching than making the shoe shorter, and placing the forward one on the toe and the hinder one on the heel of the horse, they need to understand that there is a better way, and owners of horses should make them practice it. A correspondent directs as follows in the Ohio Cultivator:

"Make the forward shoes long, and the toe-calks short, and standing a little under, and then set them as far back as convenient, in order to let the feet roll over as soon as possible to get out of the way. And in setting the shoes on the hind feet, reverse the order to keep them back, to give time for the forward feet to get out of the way. Make the toe-calks high and the heel-calks low, to keep the feet back, and then he will travel like other horses. This may be remedied in part in the mode of paring the hoof. This is essential in all cases, and is where too many horses have been made cripples."

Tree Planting.

It is an error to manure, in the hole, newly planted trees, whether fruit or forest. Make the earth deep, fine and rich from previous manuring and cultivating, but do not use any manure, unless it is the very finest loamy compost, at the time of planting. To protect and enrich the roots, you may cover the surface with straw, leaves, brush, or very coarse manure, to decay gradually. If set in the spring, you may apply manure liberally in autumn. If set in autumn, you may mulch pretty liberally with coarse manure before the ground is frozen. When trees get a good start, and are making roots and limbs rapidly, we do not know that you could hurt them with manure, lime or ashes, in any reasonable quantity. We do know, as a general thing, all sorts of trees, vines and shrubs are woefully neglected and suffer the want of manure.

Fence Posts.

In setting fence posts in ground liable to heave, we put an one-and half inch pin through the bottom of the post with its ends projecting. The wind affects it less, and the frost cannot raise it. This is an entirely new idea.

The Old Public Functionary Heard From.

After a prolonged silence, James Buchanan, better known as the "O. P. F.," has been heard from. It was on the occasion of a Democratic meeting on the Fourth of July, at Harrisburg. Refusing to join in the general celebration of the day, and take part in the soldiers' welcome, the Democrats of Harrisburg who remain true to Jefferson Davis in adversity as well as prosperity, met together in a separate convention, not so much to celebrate the anniversary of our Independence as to mourn over the failure of the Confederacy to establish her Independence. It was proper that James Buchanan, Ex-President of the United States, under whose administration and with whose knowledge, if not approval, treason was organized and the Confederacy established, should be present, and accordingly he was invited. Bowed down by sorrow at the unhappy termination of affairs in the South, grieved at the failure of the cause for which he prostituted his high office and forfeited the respect of loyal men, he was unable to be present, but wrote a characteristic letter. After referring to his inability to be present at the patriotic gathering of his friends in Harrisburg, and recounting his sorrow therefor, he goes on to say that in his opinion the time is not far distant when the old Democratic party will again come into power, that the principles of Jefferson and Jackson must soon triumph, and concludes by saying that the only safety of the country is in the success of their party. If the letter had been written before the failure of the Confederacy, to the rebels in the South, it would have been appropriate, but now it only makes the writer appear ludicrous and absurd. To talk about the Democratic party saving the country, when every child knows that the leaders of the party, with Buchanan at their head, were plotting our overthrow years before rebellion broke out; that treason and traitors were fostered and encouraged in the Executive Mansion during his administration, and that ever since the party in its conventions and assemblies through its press and public speeches have been encouraging traitors in arms against the Government, and discouraging every effort on the part of the Government to suppress rebellion—when all know that every traitor in the North, every member of treasonable societies, every assassin belonged to the Democratic party, and every treasonable act in the North was but the legitimate outcropping of the teaching of the party and its leaders. To say now when the war is over and rebellion subdued that their party has saved the country, is about as appropriate as for the devil to talk of saving souls. The country may forgive the part Buchanan bore in the early part of the rebellion, future historians may ascribe his conduct to imbecility rather than treason, but if he expects them to be so charitable he must cease to insult loyal men of the present generation or attempt to hide his own deformity by casting dirt on decent people. Buchanan used to boast, it is said, that he was the last President of the United States. The result proves he has as little of a statesman's foresight as he had of a patriot's honesty. In his case we have no doubt the wish was father to the thought. We see it stated that he has prepared a history of his times, and that it is in the hands of the Publishers, and will soon be issued. He intends this history to vindicate his Administration, and possibly distorted the facts accordingly.

Gen. Sherman endorses Gen. Cox.

Major General Sherman had a public reception at Columbus, Ohio, on the 13th inst. In the course of his remarks he heartily endorsed General Cox, announcing him as the next Governor of Ohio. He also said he was not, under any circumstances, a candidate for Gubernatorial or Presidential honors.

School for Soldiers' Orphans at North Sewickly.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Knowing that you, in common with your readers, will feel an interest in the excellent institution named at the head of this article. I have taken the liberty to write you a few things suggested to my mind by a recent visit to the Orphans' School.

Pennsylvanians are all proud of the noble position our good old State has taken in our nation's trouble—proud of the part our soldiers have taken in the struggle—and proud of the manner in which the State has cared for the brave defender of our flag. Our children will be proud of what their fathers did; and proud will they be to look back upon the generous provisions made for the families of those who fought our battles for us.

It is fitting that our noble State should provide, in a suitable way, for the education of those who have been orphaned by the war. Bravely their fathers volunteered to fight. Freely their lives were laid upon the altar of their bleeding country. Their memories are enshrined in our hearts.—These children should now be the people's care. The State has done well in the provision it has made for them.

The school established at North Sewickly is an object of interest to all who visit it. It is for the double purpose of satisfying the minds of those who feel an interest in the welfare of those who have been sent there for education, and asking the aid of the kind and generous, that this article is written.

The North Sewickly Academy has been in successful operation for quite a number of years. It received the hearty support of influential men in various parts of the county and the patronage of a number of men of wealth and influence in the cities.—At the suggestion of some of the friends of the Principal, it was changed to its present purpose. The buildings are being enlarged and accommodated to the purpose for which they are now intended. Neat, clean and comfortable, and quite as elegant as are needed for a school in the country—beautiful and pleasantly located on the Connoquenessing—surrounded by fine natural scenery—and the grounds ornamented with trees and shrubbery—the buildings are well suited for an Orphans' Home. The boarding house, school buildings and church are on adjoining lots, and the Principal of the school is also Pastor of the church.

The pupils all reside in the family of the Principal, and eat at his table, where they are not merely subsisted on "bread and water," but well fed and cared for—with his children and as his children. They are thus bro't under social influences and made to feel that they are not destitute—that they have a home and friends.

And it is proper here to state that the Principal, the Rev. [illegible] Webber, and his very excellent lady, are peculiarly adapted to caring for the orphans. Whole-hearted in their kindness, their treatment is the kind the heart suggests, and the kind that touches the youngest heart. There is nothing forced or unnatural in their treatment of the children; and hence, there is but little forced or unwilling in those children's obedience. Everything about the school, the playground and the table, is orderly and pleasant. The government of the school, like that of the family, is firm—yet easily maintained, by impressing the pupils' minds with its importance to them. While the tender-hearted Principal and Pastor is just as ready to weep with the youngest child in his care, over its bereavement and share its trouble and allay its grief, as he is to join its laugh and listen to its cheerful song or witness its play, all the pupils feel that he has a heart that sympathizes with them and prays for their good.

The teachers employed are competent and skillful, attentive and untiring; and, under their instruction—as I learned from persons who have watched the progress of the school since the opening of the session—the scholars are rapidly improving in their studies.

The moral and intellectual training of the children, their social habits and their home comforts are all cared for, while they are not, properly speaking, made to work, but taught to work.—They are taught habits of industry; and the constant aim of the Principal seems to be to impress them with the thought that they were born to be useful, and that they are there being trained for usefulness to the age in which they are to live and act.

Thus, the school at North Sewickly is a valuable help to the public. Future men and women are being trained that will bless the communities in which they are to be placed, and to bless the memories of those who have contributed to this useful institution.

Now, their is a matter that I would like to bring to the attention of the good and generous. It is this: with a little generous giving, a Cabinet Organ might be purchased and presented to the Orphans.

If any one will sit and see them as I saw them, and listen to their singing, without feeling a deep interest in them, I know not what scene could interest such a person. Their sweet voices are being trained. They take an interest in singing together. Now, could not a Cabinet Organ be purchased and presented to these orphans? How it would delight their hearts! How cheerful their voices would sound with it! How their mothers would be rejoiced to know the kindness of the people that prompted the gift. What pleasant memories would it create in their minds! I have permission to say that will cheerfully receive any contributions for the purpose, and attend to the purchase.—This object is earnestly recommended to those who would be delighted with the thought of the pleasure the organ would communicate to those little orphans.

Another thing: The minds of the children are thirsting for reading matter. I know that Sabbath Schools in the cities are in the habit of donating their old libraries to destitute schools. Such a present would be thankfully received, gratefully acknowledged and would be read with interest by these children. And other books—histories, biographies, travels, &c—would be so gladly received. Any one who reads this article may do a real favor by sending a present of this kind to the Orphans' School.

When you are buying presents for your own little ones, think of the Orphans at North Sewickly. A few books that will cost you but a trifle, will delight, entertain and benefit more than half a hundred children.

This is no begging. It is merely mentioning to those who desire opportunities of doing good where they can afford present pleasure and sow seeds that will hereafter bear abundant fruits of usefulness. It is hoped that those who read this will take pleasure in doing good as they have opportunity.

I cannot close this article without recommending the humane and generous to visit the school that I have described. You will meet with a hearty welcome. Your hearts will be made glad. The orphans will bless you. Your own hearts will reward you.

The orphans are there among those who were very recently strangers.—Any act of kindness that is done will have its reward. Inasmuch as it is done unto one of the least of these, it is done unto Him who will add His blessing to the orphans' thanks.

VISITOR.

Medical.

In pursuance of regular order, the Beaver County Medical Society convened at the National Hotel in Beaver, on Thursday, the 13th inst. S. P. Cummins, M. D., being absent, Dr. J. S. Winans was appointed President pro. tem. Dr. Isaac Winans Secretary. Members present—Drs. Isaac Winans, W. W. Simpson, F. Linninbrink, D. M'Kinney, J. S. Winans, W. S. Langfitt, J. E. Jackson, Francis F. Davis. Dr. Oliver Cunningham, (son of the late lamented Smith Cunningham, M. D.,) being present, was on motion unanimously admitted to a seat in the Society. Dr. Francis F. Davis presented himself to the board of Censors for permanent admission—was examined by Drs. Langfitt and Jackson, and passed, recommended for membership, whereupon he was received by a unanimous vote of the Society. Dr. Davis has been for several years in the service of the Union army as Surgeon.

On motion of W. J. Langfitt, the delegates to the last State Medical Society, was called upon to report, when Dr. Jackson, one of the delegates, read a [illegible] detailed account of the proceedings of that body at its last annual meeting, which report, on motion of Dr. M'Kinney was accepted.

S. M. Ross, M. D., regular essayist being absent, Dr. J. S. Winans, read a very acceptable essay on the pathology and some of the prominent characteristics of Diptheria, which led to an animated discussion, in which Drs. Simpson, Langfitt, Jackson, and J. S. Winans participated, Dr. M'Kinney occupying the chair.

Dr. Langfitt reported a case of Diabetes Mellitus, giving the pathology and treatment of the case—recovered.

Dr. J. E. Jackson reported a case of Diphtheritic Ophthalmia, a very rare and unusual phenomena of that formidable disease—fatal. D. S. Marquis, M. D., Treasurer, being absent, Dr. I. Winans was appointed to discharge the duties of that office pro. tem.

The meeting was one of unusual interest, transacting a large amount of business, and the discussions were lengthy and animated on all subjects brought before the Society, whether of a business or professional character, all the members participating.—The interchange of sentiment on medical subjects particularly, was more free and general than usual, which contributed very much to the benefit and interest of the meeting.

(The next meeting of the State Medical Society, is at Kingston, Luzerne county, on the second Wednesday of June, 1866.)

On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Joseph Hall, proprietor of the National Hotel, for the abundant and polite manner in which he entertained the Society.

On motion, the Society adjourned to meet at the same place on the second Thursday of October.

REPORTED.

THE WORK OF INCENDIARIES.—The Tribune says it is declared that Barnum's Museum was fired by incendiaries in half a dozen places simultaneously. It is suspected that the guilty parties were sympathizers, offended by the prominence Barnum has given to the manner of Jeff. Davis' capture. Barnum has received letters of sympathy and offers of curiosity for his new museum. The proprietors of Winter Garden have tendered the use of that establishment for a few weeks. The proprietors of other theatres have offered the use of their wardrobes and properties, and prominent actors offer to to appear at a benefit to Barnum's company.

THE 7-30s.—Jay Cooke reports the subscription to the 7-30 loan on Saturday at $10,331,200. The total subscription for the week amounts to $25,638,700. The third and last series of the 7-30 loan is drawing to a close. Only about $50,000 of the notes remain unsold. Adding to the sales regularly reported by Jay Cooke, the amount of sales in California, and at the regular depositaries, which have not been included in the reports from Philadelphia. At the present rate of subscription the balance of the loan will be disposed of within two weeks and probably in less time.

The Grave of Lincoln's Mother.

Near the little village of Gentryville, Spencer county, Indiana—the residence for seventeen years of the parents of Abraham Lincoln—under the aged forest trees of the country, lie the remains of the mother of our martyred President. The moss-covered mound of earth where peacefully sleeps the mother of this great and good man, is without headstone or monument to mark its locality, or relate to the passer by the names of ist honored occupant. It was among the last expressed resolves of Mr. Lincoln to consummate a long-contemplated desires to erect a suitable memorial over the grave of his mother. This resolve was beautifully expressed in a letter from the President to an old friend at Gentryville, written but a few weeks before his tragic death, in which he said that in the coming (present) summer, he intended to visit that locality and make provision for procuring a testimonial of his affection for his mother. He was not permitted to fulfil his desire.

A Family Failing.

General F. P. Blair, Jr., has been making a speech in Kentucky, apropos of the election soon to come off there. It contains a good deal of excellent advice on the subject of slavery—urging the people of Kentucky to ratify the constitutional amendment, and to make the best of the circumstances which surround them. But a large part of it, like that of his brother, Montgomery Blair, in Maryland, is devoted to denunciation of members of the Government at Washington, especially Mr. Stanton and Mr. Holt. He goes a good deal out of his way, also, to assail Chief Justice Chase, whom he charges with having traversed the South to make votes for himself for President. The Blair family, now that slavery is abolished, is the most "peculiar institution" of this country.

The Crops.

Careful reports of the condition of the crops in Illinois and Iowa have been prepared. From these reports we learn that the wheat crop, though a failure in some localities, will be more than an average yield, and of good quality. It is being harvested in good condition. Oats, rye and hay promise well. Corn is backward, but thrifty. In Northern Iowa the tremendous rains, in the latter days of June, washed out the corn, and there the crops will be almost an entire failure. The potato, in Iowa, is ruined by the bug. We hear no complaints of its ravages in Illinois. Fruit promises a fair yield, peaches in particular, of which there will be a great abundance. The apple crop will be light, but of fair quality. Of small fruits there is a generous supply.

Hon. Joseph A. Wright, our new minister to Prussia, is a native of Pennsylvania, but removed when a young man to Indiana, which State sent him to Congress in 1843, and elected him her Governor at each election from 1849 to 1857. He was United States Senator in 1861, and was appointed by President as an Envoy to visit the Hamburg Exhibiton. Since his return he has been living in privacy at home.

☞We are under obligations to our friend W. C. Dunlap, Clerk of Steamer Anna, for late New Orleans papers; also to J. R. Imbrie, of New York city, for late papers.

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENTS.—The Annual Commencement of Jefferson College will take place at Cannonsburg, Wednesday, August 2d. The Commencements of Washington College will occur on the following day, August 3d. Dr. Alexander Donaldson, Alumnus of Jefferson College, is the orator for the class of 1865, and is expected to deliver an address at Cannonsburg on the day before the Commencement.

RAIL ROAD DIVIDEND.—The directors of the New Castle and Beaver Valley Rail Road company have declared a dividend of five per centum on the capital stock of said company for the last six months, payable on the 17th inst. Those who invested capital in that improvement are now realizing more on their stock than they anticipated.—Law. Journal.

RESUMED HIS PROFESSION.—Hon. John W. Wallace, says the New Castle Courant, who has been in the service of the United States Government for some time, has resigned his position, returned to New Castle, and has resumed the practice of his profession. Many of his friends and former patrons will be pleased to learn this fact. The Doctor is one of our most skilful physicians.

PASS THIS ROUND.—Many Postmasters are in the habit of returning papers to publishers when not taken out of the office. This is not what is required. The Post-office regulations require Postmasters to write to publishers not only notifying them that the papers are not taken, but also giving the reason why they are not taken LEASED.—On the 29th ult., the Stockholders of the New Castle & Beaver Valley R. R. Co. met at the office of the Company in New Castle, and ratified the lease of the road to the P. Ft. W. & C. R. W. Co. The lease is a favorable one to stockholders, and it renders the payment of 10 per cent interest on the stock certain. Under the new arrangement the road will be better stocked, and more comfortable for passengers. The lease took effect on the 3d inst., and is to run ninety-nine years.

NATIONAL TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—This body will hold its annual meeting for 1865, on the 16th, 17th and 18th of August, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in Harrisburg.—Gov. Curtin will deliver an address of welcome, at 10 A. M., on the 16th. It is contemplated to have an excursion to Gettysburg, on the afternoon of the 17th. The Pennsylvania School Journal says that the hotels of Harrisburg have consented to reduce their charge about one-third, in favor of the members of the Association. The railroads will grant free return tickets to members who pay full fare coming to the Convention.

Loyalty of the Bar.

The Pittsburg Chronicle calls attention to the fact that the Pittsburg Bar had sent seventy-two, or more than one-half its number into the army since the breaking out of the rebellion. The members of the Pittsburg Bar have certainly reason to be proud of that. Beaver county has done equally as well. One half the members of the Bar in this county have borne an honorable part in the war just closed, and Col. Wilson and Roberts, two of its brightest ornaments and most successful practitioners, sacrificed their lives for their country. We think this proportion would hold good throughout the State. No profession or class of men contributed so largely in proportion to its number to the army as that of the Law. Let those who revile the profession take notice and be more respectful in the future.

Sabbath School Pic-Nic.

The children's Union Sabbath School at Sterling Mines, near Darlington, held their yearly celebration on Saturday, July 1st, in their old grove near the mines, quite a number of visitors being present. The school numbers about one hundred scholars. Remarks were made made by Mr. Sutherin, Superintendent of the School; also by Mr. Butts of Cleveland, O., and by Mr. Knippenberg, Supt. of Sterling Mines. About ten young girls had patriotic pieces to recite; a little boy about five years of age also recited a piece. Singing was carried on well. After dinner all the children and teachers had plays together which was kept up until 5 o'clock in the evening. The dinner was got up well, and many thanks are due to the good ladies who prepared it. Considerable was left after all had been furnished with dinner, and many had even their pockets filled.

There are few Sunday Schools that seem to prosper so well as this one does, and it is only on account of the deep interest taken both by teachers, scholars and parents that it prospers; and may God ever bless the children's Union Sunday School and all connected with it. July 1st will ever be remembered by all who were at this celebration. OBSERVER.

Our Book Table.

We have received from the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston, the second volume of their Companion Poets for the People, entitled "Songs for all Seasons." and containing choice selections from the writings of the English Poet Laureate. Price fifty cents.

Harper's Monthly, for July, is on our table, and contains its usual variety of interesting and instructive matter.

The Atlantic Monthly, for July, contains the usual amount of valuable reading matter. Young men in History; Around Mull; The Changeling; Ellen; Winter Life of St. Petersburg; Needle and Garden; A paper on Candle Ends; Doctor Johns; Assassination; The Chimney Corner; Chicago Conspiracy, are ably written contributions.

The Family Treasure, for July, has been received, and we may safely say that it is the best number yet of the many good numbers published. The first article on Christian Union, by the editor, is ably written, and the views expressed are worthy the head and heart of the writer. It contains Leaves from a European Journal; Popular Mistakes; Pictures from the Holy Land; The Danger of Riches; Foreign Summary, &c.

DIVIDEND.—The Pittsburgh Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company has declared a dividend of two and a half per cent. for the quarter ending June 30th ult., payable free of Government tax, after July 17th. The dividend of three and a half per cent. due October 1st on the third mortgage bonds has been anticipated, and will be paid July 17th. This shows a healthy state of affairs for the Company.

MONEY ORDER POST OFFICES.—A large addition to the number of Money Order Post Offices has just been established, and went into operation on the 3d of July. In Pennsylvania this number has been increased from about a dozen to thirty seven, including most of the larger cities and towns of the State. The Money Order system is regarded with great favor by the public, and has proved a complete success.

STATE TAXES.—Hon. Isaac Slenker, Auditor General of Pennsylvania, has sent the following circular to the Treasurers of the several counties of the Commonwealth:

SIR:—Your attention is respectfully called to the following extract from the seventh section of April 30, 1864.

"That so much of the forty second section of the act approved the twenty ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, as provides for the abatement of five per centum on the amount of State taxes, paid fifteen days prior to the first of September, in any year, be and the same is hereby repealed, and, hereafter, it shall be the duty of the Auditor General to add five per centum penalty to each county, on all State taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of August, one thousand, eight hundred and sixty-five, and of each year thereafter, which shall be charged in the duplicate, against each delinquent taxpayer in arrears on and after said day."

☞Secretary Harlan, of the Interior, in a speech made last Friday in Washington City, at the laying of the corner stone of the Protestant Orphan Asylum, said: "When the French, not now so friendly to our prosperity, sprung to arms in the defense of the Turkish nationality we all applauded; but when they attempt to crush feeble Mexico we despise their want of generous gallantry, and wish it might be the will of God, in the order of His Providence, that this great republic of ours should be called upon to protect her feeble sister republic." This remark met with general applause from the large auditory present.

THE GRAPE WORM.—We learn from our exchanges that the Grape worm has made its appearance in various sections of the country. It is first discovered by hearing them eating the leaves after dark, which should cause every one to examine their vines. A full grown one is about a quarter of an inch long, thick as a grain of rye, and of a dark color. They are unlike any worm we have seen before. They are to be found on the bottom of the leaf, which they soon eat into holes. They lay their eggs there and produce numerous descendants who carry on the work of destruction when they are large enough. We know of but one way to get rid of them: examine the leaves every day or two and kill them, which we do as a regular business; for if allowed to increase there will be neither leaves or fruit on the vines by fall. Their touch to the young bunches of grapes seems so be fatal, for they immediately turn black and wither away.

A Sensible View.

We clip the following item from the North American: A planter of Georgia, a Mr. Joseph Clisby, has been recently discussing the effect of the war on slavery in one of the Southern papers. He views the matter almost exclusively in relation to its effect upon labor, and, consequently, on production. Mr. Joseph Clisby says that "even compulsory labor could never be successfully reapplied by the old masters of the South, because the security of the system has been the awe and reverence with which the liege once looked up to his lord as a superior creature, to whom all the other created beings elsewhere were far inferior; but now the slave has lived to see him whom he thought a demi-god beaten and knocked about like any other vessel of clay, and accordingly, under such circumstances, the old authority never could be restored."

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. A. Hartman, proprietor of what was formerly known as the Bryson Mill, about two miles south of New Castle, died very suddenly on Friday last. He had come to town for his mail in the morning, and on returning sat down to read his paper and in a short time fell over, dead.

Coroner Barker held an inquest, and a verdict was returned the deceased came to his death by disease of the heart

Mr. Hartman was an excellent citizen, and will be much missed. His bereaved family have the warmest sympathies of the community.—New Castle Courant.

KEEP COOL.—The following morsel of advice may be of use at the expiration of the present "cool spell:"

Those who prefer comfort during the "heated term," will find at least a partial degree of relief by sleeping on the floor. Whatever of coolness there may be, it always seeks the lowest portion of the apartment. Try it. A comfort and a pillow—that's all. The first night may make your limbs ache, but the next will be more agreeable, and so on.

U.S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES.

$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per ct. interest per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date of July 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are worth a premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County or municipal taxation, w adds from one-to three per cent per annum to hich value, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent	per day on a	$50	note.
Two cents	" "	$100	"
10 "	" "	$500	"
20 "	" "	$1000	"
$1	" "	$5000	"

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent. instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the 7-30s will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this Third Series affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to hose made with seven and three tenths pr ct. in currency.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now in the market. This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within the next sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

Valuable Farm and Coal Lands For Sale:

CONTAINING 140 Acres—90 timbered—located on the left bank of the Ohio river, 4½ miles from the town of Beaver, 6 from the Smith's Ferry Oil regions, and within sight of the village of Industry, the seat of extensive coal operations. Two comfortable Log Dwelling Houses on the farm. Soil well adapted to grain growing and grazing. At least 100 acres are underlaid with two veins of superior

BITUMINOUS COAL,

One four feet, the other three—adjoining the well known "Porter Bank," which has been open and worked for many years, the coal on which is represented by steamboat men to be the best found between Pittsburgh and New Cumberland. An 8 acre lot, added lately to the farm, serves as an outlet to the River. An inclined track of 25 or 30 rods will run the coal from the 4 feet vein to the water, and a track half that distance will run it from the 3 feet or lower vein.

FIRE CLAY and LIMESTONE, of good quality, and in great abundance, and supposed also to contain a vein of excellent IRON ORE.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES
DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE REGULATING PILLS

I immediately relieve, without pain, all turbances of the periodic discharge, whether arising from relaxation or suppression.—They act like a charm in removing the pains that accompany difficult or immoderate menstruation, and are the only safe and reliable remedy for Flushes, Sick Headache, Pains in the Loins, Back and Sides, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Tremors, Hysterics, Spasms, Broken Sleep, and other unpleasant and dangerous effects of an unnatural condition of the sexual functions. In the worst cases of Fluor Albus, or Whites, they effect speedy cure.
Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills
Have been used OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY. They are offered as the only safe means of renewing interrupted menstruation, but Ladies must bear in mind that there is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing a peculiar result. The condition referred to is pregnancy—ths result, miscarriage. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it. They cannot do harm in any other way.
Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills
Are the only medicine that married and single ladies have relied upon for many years, or can rely upon now. Beware of imitations! These Pills form the Finest Preparation ever put forward, with immediate and persistent success.—DON'T BE DECEIVED. Take this advertisement to your Druggist, and tell him that you want the best and most reliable Female Medicine in the world, which is comprised in
Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills!!
They have received, and are now receiving ing the sanction of the most eminent Physicians in America.
Explicit Directions with each Box—the price, ONE DOLLAR per box, containing from 50 to 60 pills.
Pills, sent by mail, promptly, by remitting the price to the Proprietors, or any authorized Agent, in current funds. Sold by Druggists generally.

BIOKRENE OR LIFE-REJUVENATOR.
STRENGTH TO THE WEAK! YOUTH TO THE AGED!
This preparation is unequalled as a Rejuvenator and Restorer of wasted or inert functions.
The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self-abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and forever.
Biokrene
Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaciation, Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent and unequalled preparation.
Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their natural vigor, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the Biokrene.
The Feeble, the Languid, the Dispairing, the Old should give this valuable discovery a trial; it will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purposes.
TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.
It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief to Dyspepsia with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.
One dollar per Bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by Druggist generally.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names; according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla
is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use; and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.
We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.
AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.
This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined! Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating, as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process.—The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use!

These Machines make the lock-stich alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silks that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will Stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without previous basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family; or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

CRITTENDEN'S PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

☞ CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.

FRUIT TREES, GRAPE VINES, &c.

Persons intending planting orchards, gardens, vineyards, or improving their grounds, this coming Spring, are respectfully invited to examine our stock. The trees are strong, from six to eight feet and of the best varieties. Planters in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio will find it to their interest to procure their trees fresh from the Nursery, and the sorts true to name.

Parties coming to the Nurseries to Edgeworth station, on the P. Ft. W. & C. Railway, in the morning trains, can select their own trains, and return in the afternoon. Catalogues sent to applicants,

THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL

Published Daily by
The Pittsburgh Newspaper and Printing Company.

One of the Largest and Most Widely Circulated Papers in the State. Gives the Earliest and Fullest Intelligence.

Prospectus for the New Year.

On assuming control of the Commercial, at the commencement of the year, the condnctors announced their DETERMINATION to infuse a new life and vigor into its columns which should render the paper MORE THAN EVER ACCEPTABLE TO THE READER.

The Rapid Increase in Circulation, flattering notices of our contemporaries, and Congratulatory Letters from every quarter, assure us that our efforts have not been unsuccessful.

The Commercial HAS GROWN DAILY in public favor until it now ranks among the LEADING JOURNALS in the country.

In order to keep pace with the demands of the reading public, and at the same time meet the increasing pressure on our advertising columns, we some months since INCREASED THE DIMENSIONS OF THE PAPER TO THE EXTENT OF FOUR COLUMNS.

Among the leading features are full and reliable
TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS; from all the leading points of interest. It devotes special attention to MARKET REPORTS,
including the IRON, OIL, CATTLE, LUMBER, TOBACCO, and the PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS. Our RIVER NEWS,
receives particular attention, and in this Department the Commercial has no rival. The FINANCIAL AND STOCK REPORTS, of the Commercial are prepared with care and, will be found to be unusually full and reliable. Also, the Reports of the LEADING MARKETS OF THE COUNTRY,
embracing reports of the DRY GOODS and WHOLESALE MARKETS, and Special Reports of OIL STOCK FINANCE AND TRADE, from day to day.

While special attention will be given to these several Departments, the Commercial lays claim to rank among the leading journals of the country as a medium of
GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Its aim is to give none but healthy reading suited to the FAMILY CIRCLE, and to be a welcome visitor to the discriminating public.

THE PULPIT
forms a peculiar feature of the Commercial. By giving every Saturday an ORIGINAL SERMON, prepared expressly by a Minister of the Gospel, in Pittsburgh or vicinity, (which, also, goes into the weekly,) fifty-two discourses are given in the year, by not less than twenty or thirty different Ministers, without regard to denominational distinction. This Department of the Commercial has attracted much attention; and arrangements are being made to increase its recognized importance and value. As a feature at once novel and instructive, it constitutes not the least of the many claims of the Commercial to patronage.

In politics the Commercial will be an undeviating supporter of the Union, and earnestly loyal to the Government, and as far as consistent with this aim, free from Partizanship.

The Commercial is a large folio sheet, and is published in two editions every morning, Sunday excepted.

TERMS OF DAILY: by mail, $10 per annum; City subscribers, served by carriers, $13 per annum, in advance, or, 25 cents per week, payable to the carrier. Single copies 5 cents. A discount made to Agents.

THE SATURDAY COMMERCIAL—A large sheet, containing all the Current News, Miscellaneous, Literary, and Scientific Intelligence, and Valuable Reading for the Family, is published at $1,50, (52 issues,) per year. In Clubs of Twenty, $1.

The Money for Weekly and Daily must always accompany the order, and in no instance can these terms b deviated from.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER

And Other
Nervous and Chronic Diseases.
EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early, and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotton up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

BRITISH PERIODICALS,
VIZ.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Consony.)
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Radical.)
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
AND
BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.)

The American Publishers continue to reprint the above-named periodicals, but as the cost of printing has doubled, the price of paper nearly trebled, and taxes, duties, licenses, etc., largely increased, they are compelled to advance their terms as follows:

TERMS FOR 1865.

For any one of the Reviews	$4,00
For any two of the Reviews	7,00
For any three of the Reviews	10,00
For all four of the Reviews	12,00
For Blackwood's Magazine	4,00
For Blackwood and one Review	7,00
For Blackwood and any two Reviews	10,00
For Brackwood and three Reviews	13,00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews	15,00

The works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both—we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the matters contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in this country.

Compared with the cost of the originals editions, which at the present premium on gold would be about $100 a year, our prices ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyright in Gold—$1 costing us at this time (Jan. 1865) nearly $2,50 in currency—and we trust that in the scale we have adopted we shall be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading public.

The interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on our Civil War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice, they may still, considering their great ability and the different stand-points from which they are written, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country, of every creed and party.

THE FOUR REVIEWS for 1863.

A few copies of the above remain on hand, and will be sold at $5 for the whole four, or $2 for any one.

We also publish the FARMER'S GUIDE.
By Henry Stephens, of Edinburgh, and the late J. P. Norton, of Yale College. 2 vols. Royal Octavo, 1600 pages and numerous Engravings.

PRICE $7 for the two volumes—by Mail, post paid, $8.

BEAVER ACADEMY.

THE Spring Term of this Institution will commence
Tuesday, April 4th, 1865, under the charge of Messrs. F. AGNEW & M. GANTZ, as Associate Principals.

It is the desire, and will be the aim, to make this a thorough English, Classical and Commercial School, and to sustain the high character it has had heretofore.

To those who desire a good English education, and to those who have been or contemplate teaching in our public schools, inducement is offered from the fact that the latter of the Principals, for the last twelve years, has been Principal of New Castle Union Schools.

Both are graduates of different colleges, and well acquainted with the wants of our higher institutions. Persons, therefore, who design fitting themselves for college, will find this a suitable and desirable place.

The former having been for some time connected with the Iron City College, as a principal teacher, and the latter also being a graduate of Duff's College, advantages superior to most outside of the Commercial colleges are offered to those desiring a business education.

Our new Academy Buildings, designed expressly for the purpose, with large school-room, class rooms, society hall, etc., are now occupied, though not quite finished. It is expected, however, to have them wholly so at an early day.

For rates of tuition, &c., send for circular. Address the Principals or the undersigned.

A NORMAL Musical Class

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
Professor A. N. JOHNSON,
Author of "The Empire" and "Thorough Bass," will be formed at the Beaver Seminary and Musical Institute,

July 18th, 1865,

AND CONTINUE FOUR WEEKS,

The instruction will be in cultivation of the voice, Harmony, Thorough Base and Musical composition, and will continue daily for five hours. The attention of those desiring to teach or perform Sacred Music, either Vocal or Instrumental, is called to this rare opportunity for improvement.

☞ Lessons are $7,00. Board in the Institution, $15,00 for the session. For particulars address Rev. R. T. TAYLOR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

Office of the Comptroller of Currency.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, 1864.

WHEREAS, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The National Bank of Beaver county" in the Borough of New Brighton, in the county of Beaver, and State of Pennsylvania, has been duly organized under and according to the requirements of the Act of congress entitled "An Act to provide a National Currency, secured by a pledge of United States Bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof" approved June 3, 1864, and has complied with all the provisions of said Act required to be complied with before commencing the business of Banking under said Act:

Now therefore, I Hugh M'Culloch, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "the National Bank of Beaver county," in the Borough of New Brighton, in the county of Beaver, and State of Pennsylvania, is authorized to commence the business of Banking under the Act aforesaid

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office, this 20th day of December, 1864.

(SEAL)

HUGH M'CULLOCH,
Comptroller of Currency.

"Unquestionably the best Sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day.—The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising, friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the World.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellent of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TUCKERMAN'S Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

Address,
WM. B. HURD, CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at your Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the DENTAL TREASURY, Price, One Dollar, which contains them.

NOW.

Are Dr. Hurd's Preparations Good?

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New-York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, will it?"

But their cost is so small that every one can test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acid, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamels. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Drops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture, and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering,

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no bliser or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress, for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. To be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing stamps for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,

WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co., refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers' and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Jay, Cooke & Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York, etc., etc.
